The program was sponsored by the Hardin Northern Public Library with funding from the Hardin County Community Foundation.
